

The Black House - Hengistbury Head

Imagine waking up to the sound of the sea lapping outside the window, boats are sailing past.

The fresh sea air rejuvenates and revitalises your senses, It feels great to be alive when you're here.

During those long summer days we have swimming, boating, sunbathing, walking - right from your door.

In winter you are cocooned in your own private world, venturing out for cycling, walking, nature studying or anything you like.

There's no pressure, no demands, no cars, just restful days, away from it all.

Panoramic views of the beautiful South Coast take in the Isle of Wight, Christchurch Harbour, the natural coastline and the renowned Nature Reserve of Hengistbury Head.